

To: Cleland-Hamnett, Wendy[Cleland-Hamnett.Wendy@epa.gov]
From: GlobalChem
Sent: Thur 2/23/2017 12:06:07 PM
Subject: 2017 GlobalChem Conference Daily Preview

Good Morning and Welcome to the 2017 GlobalChem Conference and Exhibition!

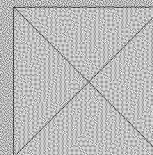

GlobalChem kicks off today with a welcome address from American Chemistry Council (ACC) President and CEO Cal Dooley, highlighting how this year's GlobalChem Conference is the first since the historic passage of the Lautenberg Chemical Safety for the 21st Century Act (LCSA).

Today's keynote is from Dr. Lynn Goldman, MD, MS, MPH. Dr. Goldman is the Michael and Lori Milken Dean of the Milken Institute School of Public Health at George Washington University and served as the assistant administrator for toxic substances at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency from 1993 – 1998. Dr. Goldman will give her unique perspective on LCSA and the current chemical management landscape.

After the keynote address, GlobalChem sessions will include a range of exciting sessions, some of which include:

- EPA OPPT Activities and Planning for 2017
8:45 am – 9:10 am, Palladian Ballroom
Acting Assistant Administrator Wendy Cleland-Hamnett from EPA's Office of Chemical Safety and Pollution Prevention will provide remarks on OPPT's plans for 2017 before the first plenary session of the day on the Lautenberg Chemical Safety Act Implementation.
- LCSA Plenary Sessions
9:10 am – 10:00 am/10:30 am – 11:45 am, Palladian Ballroom
The first plenary session will be moderated by ACC's Vice President of Regulatory and Technical Affairs, Mike Walls, and will discuss key concepts and issues in implementation of the LCSA with Julie Froelicher from Proctor & Gamble, Mark Duvall from GlobalChem sponsor, Beveridge & Diamond LLC, and Lynn Dekleva from DuPont. The second plenary session will explore the various chemical management issues within the supply chain. Speakers in the second plenary session include: Craig Rowlands from UL The Wercks, Lisa Marie Nespoli from Covestro LLC and Rose Pasarella from Intertek.
- LCSA and State Based Regulations
REPEATED, Diplomat Room
This session will be offered twice, once at 1:15 pm and again at 2:45 pm, exploring the implications of the LCSA for the relationship between states and the federal government. Speakers include

Download the GlobalChem Conference
App!

Schedules, session
descriptions, speaker
information, exhibitor details, and more are all available at the tips of your fingers.

Thank You to Our Principal Sponsors:

Did you know?

Mardi Gras is French for "Fat Tuesday", reflecting the practice of the last night of eating richer, fatty foods before the ritual fasting of the Lenten season. Celebrate Mardi Gras in DC at tonight's signature networking reception.

Owen Caine from the Toy Industry Association, Rudy Underwood from ACC and Eric Gotting from Keller and Heckman LLP.

- Canada's Chemical Management Plan
1:15 pm – 2:30 pm, Palladian Ballroom
Learn more about the Canadian Chemicals Management Plan (CMP) at this one-time session with Linda Santry from NOVA Chemicals Corporation, along with Christine Norman from Health Canada and Nicole Davidson from Environment and Climate Change Canada.
- International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC)
2:45 pm – 4:00 pm, Palladian Ballroom
Josh Gilder from the White House Writers Group will join Doug Wolf from Syngenta and Daniella Taveau from King and Spalding to discuss how the IARC Monographs' shortcomings can be addressed.
- Economic Analysis & Risk Management under the LCSA
4:15 pm – 5:30 pm, Diplomat Ballroom
Join EPA's David Widawsky, Pareto Policy Solutions LLC's Keith Belton and Resources for the Future's Alan Krupnick in a session about the role of economic analysis in the new requirements for EPA's risk evaluation and risk management activities under the LCSA.
- Sustainable Chemistry in the Value Chain
4:15 pm – 5:30 pm, Palladian Ballroom
Learn more about how leading companies are integrating sustainability into the business of chemistry along the value chain at this session, which will feature Euan Magennis from Proctor & Gamble, Barbara Minor and Robert Giraud from The Chemours Company and Mike Krames from Momentum Capital.

For the full agenda, please visit our website, <http://www.globalchem.org/>, or the Conference App, which can be downloaded here.

For real-time news updates from the conference, follow ACC (@AmChemistry) on Twitter and join the conversation by using the hashtag #GlobalChem.

GlobalChem's Signature Networking Reception starts at 6:00 pm in the Regency Ballroom!

